Preface

The following materials has been gathered as a resource tool for Cub Scout Pack Leaders and Den Leaders. It is done with the purpose of helping new Leaders and current Leaders add some spice to their program for the Cub Scouts.

This resource attempts to relate requirements at each Scout level to an activity resource. There are abbreviations within the requirement section; Achievement is "A" and Elective is "E". Although these requirements are listed as best as possible, Leaders should consult their handbook as to the full requirements. In addition, the handbooks may have more Achievements or Electives that, if done in conjunction with an Activity listed, may be achieved as well. As an example, a Leader can incorporate bike safety and/or maintenance (which is an Achievement or Elective in all levels) along with a Bike Outing on one of the listed Bike/Hike trails Activity.

Before you hit the trail with your Scouts, there are a few rules and forms that you should be aware of as a Leader. Reference material and forms are: a) Guide to Safe Scouting, b) Cub Scout Outdoor Program Guidelines, c) local tour permits, and d) permission slips for Scouts going without Parent. Don't let this bit of red tape discourage you. It will become second nature as you Search, Discover and Share.

This information is valid as of July 2007.

I would greatly appreciate any feed back and updates as to the following:

- a) rating of the "unrated" activities listed
- b) if any of the information contained in this resource has changed
- c) if you have additional comments on a resource
- d) if you have another resource to be added

Finally, I would like to dedicate this piece to my son, Luke. His enthusiasm in the Cub Scout program is inspiring and has moved me into becoming involved along with him on this great adventure.

Cost: $35 / person

Description: Tour Museum and Submarine. Sleepover night on Submarine.

Comments/Suggestions: Minimum 20 people or equivalent in cost for 20 people. Make reservations 30 days prior to stay. This message is from Council Office regarding this field trip:

In consideration of being allowed to stay overnight on board the submarine, U.S.S. Cobia, the Wisconsin Maritime Museum requires that Parents, and sometimes Scout Leaders, sign a Release and Hold Harmless Agreement. Whether or not a Parent signs this release, is a decision they must make. However, the BSA Director of Insurance and Risk Management strongly recommends that the release be read very carefully before signing as the parent is being asked to give up a legal right in exchange for allowing the Scouts to spend the night on the submarine. Under no circumstances should a Scout Leader sign this document on behalf of the Troop, Pack or Crew. Unit Leaders have no authority to bind either the Potawatomi Area Council or Boy Scouts of America in any contractual arrangement and would be personally agreeing to indemnify (pay on behalf of) the Wisconsin Maritime Museum i.e., they may not sign a Release to Hold Harmless Agreement. The Potawatomi Area Council can provide proof of general liability coverage for Units through our Registrar for participation on specific dates or date. We cannot list the Museum as an additional insured. Requirements for:
